Attending a public high school in Germany

Students aged between 14 and 17 may attend a German secondary school if they meet certain requirements. We accommodate our students in suitable German host families and they will also be taken care of by one of our local organizers. Our participants are officially exchange students. Therefore they cannot attend the final year class and will not be able to take the Allgemeine Hochschulreife, the Abitur – the final high school examination. (Citizens of the European Union (EU) may be exempt from these regulations if they meet certain requirements). If students want to complete the secondary school examination in Germany, foreign students must attend a private school.

Language requirements | Enrollment dates

Students have to take a German language test without any outside assistance or dictionary. Should it become clear that the effective skills do not correspond with the test result the participant may be excluded from the program. Each candidate has to prove knowledge on level B1 of the Common European Framework of Reference. This is equivalent to a lower intermediate level. In case that the pre-knowledge is below this level a German Intensive Course can be booked prior to the start of the High School Program. Candidates are asked to submit the completed enrollment forms at least 3 months prior to the program start, respectively 5 months if a visa is required. Delayed enrollments can only be accepted if there are places available.

Duration of stay | Special requests

An exchange student can be admitted to a German high school for a maximum of one school year. The dates may vary depending on the regulations in different Federal States. Usually, one school year covers a period of approx. 11 months. It is possible, however, to arrange shorter stays, e.g. 2 months, 3 months or a half year term. The duration of the program includes vacations. Regarding the location please note that we cannot guarantee a requested city or region because the availability of host families and schools may depend on the particular program date, the course period as well as the student's personality. However, we'll try to consider the requests.

Insurance | Additional expenses | Acknowledgement

At the request of the participating German schools, we will effect a health, accident and liability insurance which is compulsory for all international students. The schools ask for a fee of approximately 50,- € per year for books and photocopies, to be payable at the secretary's office. The participants must also pay for the public transportation tickets. Depending on the city, this will amount to approximately 40,- € to 80,- € per month. In addition, one has to consider a monthly allowance depending on the student's individual habits and demands. The student has to make sure if and on what condition the school in his/her home country will acknowledge the school attendance.

Attending a private high school

Attending a private high school is more expensive than attending a comparable public high school. The quality of the instruction, as well as the comprehensiveness of the offerings, is comparable. However, the ability to obtain a certificate for admission to a German university is only possible by attending a private high school.

German university entrance qualification

Attending a German private high school provides participants with the opportunity to complete their school career in Germany with the final secondary-school examination (Abitur) which qualifies for German university admission. Students need to attend three or four school years at high school in order to pass the Abitur.
